

Folding containers

The folding containers of the MetaFoldingBox Euronorm series were specially developed for the needs of fresh food logistics. If the empty boxes are folded up, the volume of the containers is reduced by around 84%. This makes the folding containers very space- and cost-saving during return transport. To prevent the fruit and vegetables from being damaged during transport, the perforated side walls of the folding container are particularly smooth and without sharp edges. Openwork side and base.
